

2: Thevet--236

116, 245

(1555) 1878

Tupinamba

Pineapples are started by planting certain shoots, a method similar to grafting in this country.

6: Abbeville--218

(1611) 1614

Tupinamba

116, 245, 273

When they are in season the Indians squeeze the juice of these [MC: acaïou, a delectable fruit from the acaïou tree which grows wild, or is cultivated in clearings by sowing the kernels. The tree is tall and bears fruit after two years.], particularly the Acaïou piran to make a wine which they call Acaïou caouin, which is white and very delicious to drink.